THE JAGERSFONTEIN DIAMOND.

Emperor William Wants the $5,000,000 Sparkler For His New Crown.

I learn from London that the emperor of Germany is eager to purchase the big diamond found at the Jagersfontein mine in July last. This monster gem turns the scales at 971 carats, and there seems good reason for believing that it is the very biggest in the world. It has been christened the Jagersfontein "Excelsior."

The Jagersfontein mine, which is situated about 50 miles from Kimberley and within the territory of the Orange Free State republic, is owned by a company, many of the shareholders of which reside in England and few of them on the spot. For some time they have sold the yield of diamonds by public tender in advance. The contractors for the purchase of the diamonds in July were Messrs. Wernheim & Eit, and their contract expired on the very day this famous stone was found. Had it been handed to the manager only a few hours later it would have fallen into other hands.

The "Excelsior" was found by a native Basuto laborer named Jonas, and he could easily have secreted it, as was done in thousands of cases, to obtain a large sum of money. Had it been working at the time at a place where no diamonds were expected to be found, however, he promptly placed it in the hands of the manager, who did not for a considerable time realize its enormous value. The natives at the mine, as an encouragement to zeal and honesty, are allowed a small commission upon the diamonds they find, and Jonas' share was about £2,000. This sum to an African native is quite a small fortune, and as the bonus was supplemented by the gift of a horse, saddle and bridle the Basuto left for his home a very proud man.

On the spot the diamond was valued by the local government inspector at £25,000, but when it reached Kimberley a bid of £250,000 was made for it. The owner was deluded, and the "Excelsior" was shipped to Europe. It was a curious sight to see the parcel guarded to the C. & G. Town docks by a squad of cavalry and a detachment of police. It reached England safely, and immediately the value went up, until now the owners decline to part with it for less than £1,000,000. It has been lodged in the Bank of England for security, and at the present time negotiations are proceeding for its purchase on behalf of the German emperor, who is having a new crown constructed and has an idea apparently that this particular gem will add luster to the diadem. He is not, however, the only bidder in the market, and it is quite uncertain what will be the gem's ultimate destination.—Jewelers' Circular.

A steamship on Lake Titicaca. A triumph in engineering is reported from the mountains of Peru, where a twin screw steamer of 540 tons, 170 feet long and 30 feet wide, has been successfully launched on Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable water in the world, more than 13,000 feet above the sea. This steamer, which belongs to the Peruvian government and is to be used for freight and passenger traffic, was built on the Clyde, then taken apart in more than 1,000 pieces and shipped to Puna by railway and transported over the mountains on the backs of llamas and mules and put together by a Mr. John Wilson, a Scotch engineer, with great skill and success.—Chicago Record.

Effect of Lord Dufferin's Speech. Lord Dufferin's speech on the peace of Europe, in Paris, has had a remarkably good effect throughout Europe. In France itself the words have been received in excellent spirit, and public sentiment has quite taken the sting from the vulgar insults to the British ambassador, which, by a few days, preceded the address. The French government's bold declaration of a policy of religious toleration also has been received as a distinct mark of progress. Even some of the French Radicals show signs of having made the discovery that denunciation of all religion is not an evidence of true democracy.—Paris Letter.

OPPOSED TO THE WILSON BILL

The employed and unemployed are now congregating in Washington. The employed numbering about one thousand persons, men and women, from Philadelphia, and Baltimore, marched down Pennsylvania avenue four abreast, carrying an American flag donated by ex-Postmaster General Wanamaker, to Metzger's Hall, where speeches were made and resolutions adopted against the passage of the Wilson bill. The resolutions declare that a reduction in the customs duty on any article manufactured or produced in this country means a corresponding reduction in the wages of labor employed in its manufacture or production.

While this is doubtless true it does not account for the fact that while the customs duty on nearly every article manufactured or produced in the United States is as high to-day as it ever has been, the prices of nearly all products are lower than ever before in the memory of the present generation. This is true of wheat and cotton, which are not affected by the tariff, as well as of wool and other protected products.

A memorial address to the Senate says that the business depression of the past year will be continued indefinitely if the Wilson bill becomes a law, and to revive prosperity the Senate is asked to defeat the bill. If this is true the Senate should not hesitate. Its duty is plain. It should restore prosperity at once. The country is sadly in need of it. Let the thousands of unemployed now marching toward Washington know that the Wilson bill cannot become a law and they will probably disperse or get employment at once.

As the idea seems to prevail in many places East that the proposed change in the tariff laws is the cause of the unprecedented business depression, it is to be hoped that the Wilson bill will not become a law. The people of the West and South, with few exceptions, attribute the depression to the adoption of the gold standard and scarcity of money consequent thereto. If the eastern theory is correct, the western idea must be erroneous, and a very effective method of ascertaining which is right would be to let the tariff laws remain as they are. If dull times and low prices continue then the cause must be looked for outside of tariff schedules, and eastern people may come to the conclusion that the advocates of free coinage are right. The fact that the business depression is not confined to the United States alone, but extends to Europe and Australia, to high and low tariff countries, indicates that customs duties are not the cause.

THE NEW NAVY.

The new navy, about which so much has been written, and for the construction of which the country is taxed many millions of dollars, is just now the subject of unfavorable comment. It is charged that quite a percentage of the heavy armor plates for the battle ships, for the manufacture of which Carnegie & Co. has the exclusive contract, are full of blow-holes and defective in other ways, and that the ships will have to be taken apart to remedy the defects.

It is further stated that the report of Captain John Phillips of the United States cruiser New York, relating to defects in construction developed during the voyage to Rio, which has been received by the Navy Department, shows that the vessel is more dangerous to its crew than to an enemy. The turrets were rigid and could not be turned either to port or starboard. The ammunition hoists are defective, and during target practice an attempt to hoist an eight-inch shell to one of the turret guns resulted in the big shell being plunged down the ammunition shaft on top of the projectiles, and only by accident was the vessel saved from being blown to pieces by an explosion. The magazines of the eight-inch guns were found to be heated to a temperature of 160 degrees, and the powder stored therein was liable to explosion at any moment.

These reports indicate that our new navy is being constructed for the benefit of contractors rather than for the protection of commerce and the interests of the country. Fortunately there was no occasion for using the guns of the New York at Rio or the vessel would probably have gone to Davy Jones' locker, but that is no excuse for expending millions on war ships which in action would be more dangerous to those on board than to the enemy.

CONVICTED OF MURDER.

The Jury Finds Alfred Vaughn Guilty. The trial of Alpheus Vaughn for the murder of John and William Listler at Boone canyon, Lander county last December, resulted in the jury finding the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. The case has been on trial in the District Court at Austin for nearly two weeks. Nick Rast, who was the only witness to the murder and indicated as an accessory, testified in behalf of the State.

The case was given to the jury last Saturday, and after being out about 24 hours, they found a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

The trial of Charles Vaughn, who is also indicted for murder, has not yet been held, and it is not known whether the evidence against him is as conclusive as it was against his brother.

How to Keep Apples.

The best kept apples we ever tasted, says the Walla Walla Statesman, were those on St. Patrick's day, when they were dug up by the children who buried them last Fall. They dug a hole, raked leaves on the bottom and then laid the apples therein, every layer of apples alternating with leaves. There was not a rotten apple in the lot, and for flavor and freshness they could not have tasted better if freshly plucked from the trees.

CLASSIC BOSTON.

Its Treatment of the Industrial Army. Rivals That of the Abolitionists Before the War—A Disgusting Exhibition.

BOSTON, April 23.—A pandemonium raged on Boston Common Sunday afternoon. Coxeyism caused it, and during its height the New England delegation of Coxey's industrial army made their escape from among 30,000 excited men, and singly struck out for Roxbury.

This was not, however, until their banner had been torn to fragments and several of them badly handled. Speeches were interrupted, hissed, drowned in cat-calls and overwhelmed with derisive cheers.

Lucien Saniel of New York was unceremoniously dropped on the barbed wire fence that surrounded the band stand. His hands were severely cut, and his brand new suit of clothes torn. Even Morris Swift, the leader of the unemployed in the State, was overwhelmed by tobacco thrown at him while he was speaking.

Miss Charlotte Smith tried to make an address from a dry goods box, but was thrown to the ground and only rescued by a detachment of police.

Twice had Mr. Swift called upon the police to stop the proceeding without avail. They took no action, and it was only when the mob had torn down the fence that surrounded the band stand and were in actual possession of the structure, to the imminent peril of a dozen women who had been carried into it for shelter, that they rushed in.

With a rush like a mighty wave the crowd swept toward the band stand. Down went the fence with a crash. Big men were buried up the steps of the structure. Over a hundred howling men reached the inside of the stand before half that number could be extricated from beneath the feet of the fighting men.

The dispersed industrial army were next heard from during the evening at Hyde Park, a suburb of Boston, where 250 of them assembled, having taken various routes to that place.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Peffer Introduces a Bill to Dispose of Idle Labor and Discourage Idle Capital.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The credentials of Mr. Jarvis, the newly appointed Senator from North Carolina, were presented to the Senate to-day.

Peffer introduced by request a bill to dispose of idle labor and discourage idle wealth in the District of Columbia. It provides for the taxation of unearned increment, the proceeds to be applied to the employment of idle labor.

Peffer then sought to take up his resolution for the appointment of a committee on communication to receive the petition of Coxey's army, but the motion was defeated by a vote of 77 to 26.

Wasburn of Minnesota addressed the Senate on the tariff bill. He favors the reciprocity treaty already existing and applying the principles to all our foreign trade.

NATIONAL BANKS.

Statement of Their Financial Condition.

Reports from the 3,777 National banks (all there are in the country) under the recent call have been received by the Comptroller of the Currency. The summary of these reports shows that the lawful money reserved on February 28, 1894, was $43,980,261, which is made up of the following items:

Gold coin, $124,904,826; gold treasury certificates, $66,456,110; gold clearing-house certificates, $7,925,000; silver dollars, $7,741,205; silver treasury certificates, $43,181,166; silver fractional coin, $6,058,278; total specie, $14,135,585.

Legal tender notes, $142,768,676; United States certificates for deposit for legal tender notes, $85,045,000. Aggregate reserve on December 19, 1893, the date of the last call, was $414,135,407.

The Comptroller regards the financial situation as shown by the bank statements as quite encouraging. Loans and discounts have materially increased and the general showing indicates a rapidly increasing confidence and a return to normal business activity.

CONVICTED OF MURDER.

The Jury Finds Alfred Vaughn Guilty. The trial of Alpheus Vaughn for the murder of John and William Listler at Boone canyon, Lander county last December, resulted in the jury finding the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree. The case has been on trial in the District Court at Austin for nearly two weeks. Nick Rast, who was the only witness to the murder and indicated as an accessory, testified in behalf of the State.

The trial of Charles Vaughn, who is also indicted for murder, has not yet been held, and it is not known whether the evidence against him is as conclusive as it was against his brother.

Governor West of Utah will have another opportunity to distinguish himself by ordering out the militia. The Salt Lake contingent of the industrial army numbers over 500 men and is increasing daily. Will the United States Court order the Marshal to take those men to the Nevada line?

The jury in the case of Lieutenant James A. Maney, indicted for the murder of Captain Alfred Hedberg, at Fort Sheridan, near Chicago, last October, found a verdict of not guilty, holding that the homicide was justified.

Telegraphic Notes.

Ber silver, 63; lead, 320%.

Petridge's statue of Shakespeare was unveiled yesterday at Chicago.

Jesse Seligman, the New York banker, died at the Coronado Hotel, California, yesterday.

Chinamen who camped in a gulch at La Plata City, Colorado, have been driven out by a party of armed white miners.

The steamer Los Angeles, from San Pedro to San Francisco, struck on the Moro rock near Monterey and went to pieces. Six lives were lost.

Four negroes have been lynched at Vicksburg, Mississippi for the murder of Manager Bryce at the Brunon plantation Saturday. Five others are hiding in a swamp and will be lynched if taken.

The Italian anarchist, Giuseppe Ferrari, has been arrested in London. He is thought to be the head of the anarchist brotherhood in Europe, and the one who directs the manufacture and disposal of bombs.

London is excited over the report of the Sanitary Institute, which declares that five-sixths of all the bread consumed in London is produced in cellar bakeries not more than six feet high and ten by twelve feet square, which reek with sewer gas and other forms of pollution.

Tests of the new aid to navigation, the solarimeter, which were made on the last trip of the steamer Weimer, were most satisfactory, and the instrument will undoubtedly replace the sextant on board ships. It will determine the position of a vessel in a fog if the sun can be located.

Governor Nelson of Minnesota is endeavoring to settle the Great Northern strike by arbitration. President Hill has accepted the proposition for the railroad, and the strikers are considering it. The plan is for each side to appoint three arbitrators and the six so appointed to select a seventh.

A riot occurred at Buda last Sunday in which three hundred workmen marched to the town hall and demanded the return of a quantity of socialistic pamphlets and documents taken from them by the police. The police attempted to disperse them and were driven back by a shower of stones. A troop of gendarmes was called, who fired on them, wounding six, one of whom will die. The troops then charged and rode down many of the men, prickling them with their swords. Sixty were arrested.

A Big Reduction in Wages.

The Carson Valley ranch owners held a meeting at Mottsville yesterday and resolved to only pay the haying and harvest hands fifteen dollars a month and board the year round hereafter. Heretofore the men have been getting forty dollars a month in harvest time and one dollar a day in winter months. It is said the men will not submit to such a radical reduction and refuse to work.

JOHN W. MACKAY has succeeded in effecting a reconciliation between the Prince and Princess Colonna. The threatened divorce proceedings have been stopped, and there has been a complete readjustment of the family difficulties. The princess will return to her husband in June or July with her children, and the Prince has agreed to behave himself. The financial affairs are said to have been arranged upon a satisfactory basis.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embodied in Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation.

It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the kidneys. Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daring Attempt at Burglary.

Last night about 11 o'clock the residents living in the vicinity of the Masonic cemetery were startled by a woman yelling murder and help.

Assistance was quickly at hand to ascertain the trouble. It proved to be Mrs. Mansfield, who had discovered two men trying to burglarize her residence, which is situated on Fourth street near Washington. She had retired and was awakened by some one rapping on her door. In response, a man appeared in her room, presumably from under the bed, who proceeded to open the door. Finding escape in that direction cut off, Mrs. Mansfield jumped through the window and gave the alarm.

Upon the arrival of Officer Nash accompanied by Mr. Kolster, the tailor, who proceeded to the window of Mrs. Mansfield's room, Mr. Nash threw the light of his dark lantern into the room, which revealed the presence of a man who was lying on one of the beds of which there are two in the room. He was asked what he was doing there and he replied by telling them to leave as he wanted to sleep. Upon being pulled out of bed he said he had a right to be there as Mrs. McGinnis lived there and he had been stopping there for six months.

If the man is not insane he is evidently trying to create that impression. Mrs. Mansfield is positive there were two of them, but one succeeded in making his escape. As far as known nothing was taken from the house.
